This fun-filled activity book has seven different activities designed around stories from the quran. The stories are written in simple words to make it easy for parents to share with their children

The Islamic Ritualized Prayer is one of the most important pillars of Islam and will be the first thing we'll be questioned about on the Day of Judgement. It is our duty as parents to teach our little ones about our gift of Salah in which we connect with our Creator five times a day. We must start teaching our children as early as seven years old as we were instructed by our Prophet, peace be upon him, by creating a positive atmosphere that encourages them to pray and forming a habit. Little Zaid's Journey to Salah takes us on Zaid's journey to how he was introduced to the Islamic Ritualized Prayer. Zaid shares the story of his first trip to his local Mosque with his dad and shares the story of how he went from praying once a day to five times a day. Zaid also teaches us the purpose of Salah, why we pray, and how to perform wudu (ablution) and perform the prayer. What better way to teach your child than learning it from a beautiful little story narrated by their peer with beautiful colorful illustrations that they'll love. The story of Zaid's Journey to Salah is guaranteed to teach, inspire, and encourage your child to love and look forward to praying and connecting with his Creator.

Allah Made Everything, the song book, is based on the lyrics of the well-loved children's song by renowned singer and songwriter Zain Bhikha. The song was first released in 2015, and together with the hit video, has become one of the most popular Muslim children's songs across the world.

The spread of Salafism - often called "Wahhabism" - in the West has intrigued and alarmed observers since 9/11. Many see it as a fundamentalist interpretation of Islam that subjugates women and fuels Jihadist extremism. According to this view, Salafi women are the unwilling victims of a patriarchal, fanatical version of Islam. Yet, in Britain, growing numbers of educated women - often converts or from less conservative Muslim backgrounds - are actively choosing to embrace Salafism's literalist beliefs and strict guidelines, including full veiling, wifely obedience, and seclusion from non-related men. How do these young women reconcile these demands with their desire for fulfilling careers, university degrees and suitable husbands? How do their beliefs affect their love lives and other relationships? And why do they become Salafis in the first place? Anabel Inge has gained unprecedented access to Salafi women's groups in the UK to provide the first in-depth and vivid account of their lives. Drawing on more than two years of ethnographic fieldwork and interviews in London, she probes the reasons for Salafism's appeal among young Somalis, Afro-Caribbean converts, and women from other backgrounds. She also reveals how the women's lives are fraught with personal dilemmas. This ground-breaking, lucid, and richly detailed contribution will be of interest to policy-makers, journalists, scholars, and general readers.

"Imagine it is the seventh century. As most of Europe continues its descent into a long period of intellectual dormancy, a quiet yet powerful academic revolution is erupting in another corner of the world. Over the next centuries, the geniuses of Muslim society will thrust the boundaries of knowledge forward to such a degree that their innovations still shape civilizations to this day. The staggering achievements of these men and women influenced the development of modern mathematics, science, engineering, and medicine. 1001 Inventions: The Enduring Legacy of Muslim Civilization sheds new light on this golden era that was once lost to so many, and celebrates the heritage that we all share"--P.
