Have you ever felt frozen by fear and panic? Unable to do the things you would like to do with ease and peace? Have feelings of dread, fright, alarm, and trembling? Sleepless nights, pacing the floor, wishing you could just fly away? Uncontrollable sweating, rapid pulse, and shakiness? Powerless over your circumstance? Asking yourself, "What's wrong with me?" I too had experienced these very same things during a great trial in my life, which led me to the writing of this book. Instead of faltering or giving in to the fear and panic I had been experiencing, I started an almost two-year journey into an in-depth study of God's Word and asked him for answers: Give me wisdom. Give me insight. Why am I going through this? Show me how to be set free. And with constant prayer and study, God did indeed open up my eyes to many things that will not only amaze you, but will also set you free from this grip! If you want to receive the freedom that only God can give where the research has already been done for you, then it is a must that you read this book! You will experience a closer relationship with our Lord and will have a much more better understanding of his Word. The Word that will set you free! "And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free!" (John 8:32)

Miracle is a gift follows in line with the work of well-known authors like Jack Canfield (Chicken Soup for the Soul) and Sid Roth (It's Supernatural) to name a few. Halley Arten expanded her contribution, by a collection of testimonies from fourteen random people, on the same topic of supernatural interventions in our daily lives. Her book is an anointed piece, which is highly contagious, jumpstarting anyone's faith. Her sincere desire is to spread her message of hope far and wide and empower those who are looking for answers, to equip them with tools to fight the good fight of faith unto victory. Her contribution is an emotional account of a journey from the edge of hopelessness into full personal empowerment.

Fear is something that everyone deals with in life. Whether you are young or old, single or married, live at home with your parents or just moved out, there are bound to be some moments of fear. Having moments of fear isn't the problem; however, the problem comes in when you allow those moments of fear to control your life and then you have a ¿spirit¿ of fear. The Bible says in 2 Timothy 1:7 ¿For God has not given us the spirit of timidity, but of power and love and discipline.¿ The word ¿timidity¿ here is the Greek word ¿deilia¿ which is translated as fearfulness or cowardice. This means that while we might face moments of fear throughout our lives we can't allow this to make us cowards. We have to trust God and have more faith in God than we have fear in the world. This 31 day devotional is designed to help you live by God's equation for our life. God has created us to have more faith in Him than fear in the world. Each day you will have the ¿Scripture,¿ which is simply the scripture for the day, the ¿Say what¿ which is the scripture explained in a few lines, and the ¿Breakdown¿ which is the actual devotion for the day. Then we have the ¿Live it out¿ which will be a few lines to help you act on this scripture today. The ¿Prayer¿ is next which is simply the daily prayer and then we have the ¿Reflection¿ which is the section in each day for you to write your notes and thoughts for the day. The reflection is key for you to treat this devotional like a journal to track your thoughts and come back to it later. Ok let¿s get started with day 1 on this journey that we will take together on the road to having more faith than we have fear, using God's equation.

OVER 300,000 COPIES SOLD! Why won't God reveal his special will for my life already? Because he doesn't intend to... So says Kevin DeYoung in this punchy book about making decisions the godly way. Many of us are listening for the still small voice to tell us what's next instead of listening to the clear voice in Scripture telling us what's now. God does have a will for your life, but it is the same as everyone else's: Seek first the kingdom of God. And quit floundering. With pastoral wisdom and tasteful wit, DeYoung debunks unbiblical ways of understanding God's will and constructs a simple but biblical alternative: live like Christ. He exposes the frustrations of our waiting games and unfolds the freedom of finding God's will in Scripture and then simply doing it. This book is a call to put down our Magic 8-Balls and pick up God's Word. It's a call to get wisdom, follow Christ, be holy, and live freely. To just do something.

A woman's faith in God is challenged by the first question Satan asks Eve in the Bible: "Did God really say you can't eat from any tree in the garden?" That seed of doubt and the story it begins to unfold breed a concept of fear still haunting each of us on some level every day—the idea that our actions could ruin something beautiful, and God might not have control of things. In What Women Fear, acclaimed writer and speaker Angie Smith admits, "fear is a major part of my testimony" and talks openly about her treatment for anxiety as a child. Giving a voice to the problem, she says, "I truly believe every single one of us struggles with some type of fear, whether it's fear of flying or fear of being 'found out.' Maybe you don't worry about dying, but you get sick thinking about the fact that you might fail." Rather than suggesting that those who truly love the Lord would never fear, Angie blends her own experiences with those of men and women from throughout Scripture to help us start dealing more effectively with these true, human emotions. Whether it's a constant "What if?," a nagging fear of abandonment or betrayal, fear of your own or someone else's death, fear of trusting God's plan, or even the fear that God's existence is a lie, Angie will walk you through

The greatest gift tucked into this book is the overwhelming picture of the mercy of our God who understands our fears and invites us to stand beside Him in the rain and let His love wash us clean. Presents a six-week Bible study guide to dispelling fears and the stresses they cause in order to confront situations with courage, strength, and faith in God.

Today, our world is a scary hyperconnected place. Thanks to the internet, we know more than we ever did when our world was limited to our town and local news. At any given time, we can witness tragedy anywhere in the world through a device in our pockets. It seems more than ever the cable news network's sling drama and fear 24-7. This takes a toll on our psyche. More Americans today are being diagnosed with anxiety, depression, and PTSD than ever before. Moreover, life itself can be terrifying. We struggle through sickness, injury, and financial issues daily. We worry about our children and friends. Anxiety abounds when trying to achieve our goals. Nothing we want is easy or harmless. How do we navigate and digest so much negative information and situations? K. D. Harper tackles fear head on using Christian apologetics and straight forward logic. He draws on the story of King David and his own prison experience to paint a picture of overcoming intense fear. Harper reshapes the readers' worldview by starting at the very beginning with an understanding of who is God. Then he moves into a breakdown of the one behind fear and doubt. Using love and forgiveness he shapes an understanding of the principle steps it takes to become truly heroic using relentless faith in Jesus Christ. If you find that fear is keeping you from success, relationships, or being the best you can be this book is for you.

We will never be short on fears. Failure, rejection, sickness, losing a loved one, being alone—the fears we carry are many and heavy. Fear can be a tyrant, a bully we can't hide from. It can paralyze our spirit, damage our relationships, and hinder our faith. Trillia is no stranger to fear. She has known its harsh grip on her life, but she has also known the gentle hand of God, a peace and a faith from the One who conquers fears. In Fear and Faith, Trillia will encourage you as she reflects on Scripture and her own story. She will show you Jesus, who was tempted like you in every way. She will show you the character of God and how it inspires faith. And she will show you real women who have walked the road of fear—or are still walking it—and how they have found security in the Lord to be their strength. Whatever your fear, you are not alone, nor are you without hope. You have the One who can replace your fear with faith.

In this no non-sense book, reliable spiritual guide, Will Willimon, invites readers to consider the gospel command to love (and not merely tolerate) those considered to be “Other” or outside mainstream Christian culture. Rooted in the faith of Israel and the Christian story and vision, Willimon brings a Wesleyan perspective to bear on what may be the hardest thing for people of faith to do: keeping and loving the “Other” as they are - without any need for them to become like us. Emphasizing biblical teaching to receive Others for who they are and their differences as gifts and mysteries bearing the grace of God, Willimon also offers a strong critique of the privileged who all too often rush to speak of reconciliation and evade the injustice of huge inequalities faced by foreigners and strangers - as well as the antagonism the stranger experiences. He identifies concrete, everyday ways persons are formed in welcoming others without annihilating their differences. Rooted in the New Testament understanding of Gentile outsiders grafted into the covenant community, Willimon invites readers to an on-the-ground faith that remembers the God who comes to us again and again through so-called outsiders, strangers, immigrants, and those without status. Beyond welcome, Christians must become “other” to the world, shaking off the dominant culture’s identity and privilege through practices of listening, humility, and understanding. “I love Will Willimon, and I love this book. Will writes with prophetic sarcasm, a touch of humor, plenty of self-effacement, and a pastor’s heart. And his words will make you laugh, cringe, cry, confess, and repent. This is a very timely book. I urge you, prospective reader, as you read this blurb on the back cover: buy and read it! You’ll be grateful you did.” —Adam Hamilton, senior pastor, The United Methodist Church of the Resurrection, Leawood, KS; author of Half Truths “This gutsy, biblically rich, theologically searing book by Willimon gigs everybody’s sacred cow. Not only is the one whom Christ loves Other but God is Other. The ground beneath us shakes the walls that divide us. If you are holed-up happy with people who look like you, don't read this thing. It will screw up your world." —Tex Sample, Robert B. and Kathleen Rogers Professor Emeritus of Church and Society, Saint Paul School of Theology, Leawood, KS

"Timely and prophetic, Willimon's call to love the Other will quickly take hold of your soul, changing your preaching and your life. This book is not just a reminder of our Christian calling to welcome the Other but a call to conversion, a new way of seeing the neighbor and a new way of being in the world God desperately loves." —Karoline M. Lewis, Marbury E. Anderson Chair of Biblical Preaching, Luther Seminary, St. Paul, MN "Bishop Willimon's new book should come with a warning: Do not read unless you are ready to be changed and want to change the world!" —O. The stock market crash of 2008 left one of my friends feeling bewildered and lugubrious after losing $300,000 in that financial disaster. taught is actually a fear-saturated distortion of biblical faith. Benjamin L. Corey thought he was suffering a crisis of faith, but it turned out to be a spiritual awakening. Corey became aware that the constant fear of hell and judgment that defined his Christian faith was out of sync with the idea that God acts from love, and promises to deliver us from fear. In the wake of this realization came newfound insights—from reading the Bible to re-examining American life and the church's role in the wider world. Corey learned that what he had been taught was a distorted version of Christianity that was not only untrue but caused real spiritual harm. He also discovered that he wasn't alone. Many Christians are yearning to distinguish between the Christianity that has become a rigid American civil religion and the authentic Christian faith embodied in Jesus. As he recounts his own spiritual journey, Corey offers a powerful and inspiring message of hope for every Christian increasingly frustrated with the church today. Do not be discouraged, he assures them. You do not need to give up your faith; you can rediscover the reality of a vibrant Christianity that delivers us from fear and inspires and guides us all today.

From life along the Tigris River in the 1970s to the ongoing Arab Spring uprisings, Phil Karber has witnessed decades of change throughout the Middle East. Fear and Faith in Paradise draws on his wealth of experience to sketch a timely and compelling portrait of the region throughout history. Seamlessly moving between past and present, Karber skillfully develops two overarching themes: How America's footprint can be shifted from a military to a humanitarian emphasis and how fear is used as a cudgel by today's monotheistic leaders to sacrifice the faithful. Whether Christian, Muslim, or Jewish, they all invoke their own vision of paradise, often as incentive, in hopeless conflicts that seem doomed to be repeated. Karber's down-to-earth writing Fear is not simply an emotion we feel, it can also be paralyzing, controlling, and even motivating.

Unfortunately, fear is often a byproduct of the sin in our heart. We want to appear righteous, so in our pride and self-righteousness we fear man and conceal who we really are. Maybe we've had difficult, painful trials and so, rooted in anxiety, we look at the future fearfully, rather than trusting the Lord. In Fear and Faith, we will look our fears in the face, name their root cause, and learn together how to lean on the One who we can and should trust. Fear has a way of whispering lies to our souls about who God is. But the Lord is better and through exploring what the Word says about our sovereign, good, and loving God, we can learn to rest in His ever-open arms. Ultimately we fight fear by trusting in the Lord and fearing Him.

This Bible study examines 10 fears common to most women and suggests ways to overcome such fears by using them as stepping stones to deeper faith, renewed confidence, and sincere reverence for a powerful and loving God.

Fear is one of the strongest human emotions, and it is one that often baffles Christians. “The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge.” —Proverbs 1:7 Fear is one of the strongest human emotions—and one that often baffles Christians. In the Bible the picture can seem equally confusing: Is fear a good thing or a bad thing? And what does it mean to “fear the Lord”? In Rejoice and Tremble, Michael Reeves clears the clouds of confusion and shows that the fear of the Lord is not a negative thing at all, but an intensely delighted wondering at God, our Creator and Redeemer.

"Will He plead against me with His great power? No, but He would put strength in me." Job 23: 6. A haunting examination of groupthink and mass hysteria in a rural community The place is Salem, Massachusetts, in 1692, an enclave of rigid piety huddled on the edge of a wilderness. Its inhabitants believe unquestioningly in their own sanctity. But in Arthur Miller's edgy masterpiece, that very belief will have poisonous consequences when a vengeful teenager accuses a rival of witchcraft—and then when those accusations multiply to consume the entire village. First produced in 1953, at a time when America was convulsed by a new epidemic of witch-hunting, The Crucible brilliantly explores the threshold between individual guilt and mass hysteria, personal spite and collective evil. It is a play that is not only relentlessly suspenseful and vastly moving but that compels readers to fathom their hearts and consciences in ways that only the greatest theater ever can. years, Christian women have been told, "If you just prayed more, had more faith, and trusted Jesus, you'd have more peace." But what does it mean when a Christian momma continues to worry? How does she reconcile her feelings of fear with her faith in God? And how does she raise her children in a home full of peace when she feels anything but peaceful? Becky Thompson, a best-selling author with a degree in biblical studies, knows firsthand what it is like to suffer from the crippling effects of anxiety--a condition she has struggled to overcome for most of her life. For her and many others, the fear she faces is not a faith issue. It's a physical one that affects over 40 million adults in the US. As Becky examines the relationship between the promise of peace in Scripture and the reality of life, motherhood, and anxiety, she brings both a practical and spiritual approach to the discussion of anxiety and how it impacts your mind, body, and spirit. Peace meets moms in the forest of fear where they have felt isolated and alone and walks them toward hope, reminding them that there are millions of other women who walk the same dark, uncertain trails they do and there isn't something wrong with their faith because they can't shake the fear. Peace is a lifeline for the Christian mom desperate for solid advice based on sound doctrine and presented in a way that makes her feel understood and far less alone on her journey toward healing.
